Port Arthur Joins In Mobilization for Defense Day Test

HUGE PARADE TO START AT 5:30

Army Planes to Drop Smoke Bombs

STORES CLOSE AT 5 P. M.

Marchers To Form At K. C. S. Station

Port Arthur, flags fluttering throughout the downtown section and on ships in the harbor, turns out at 5:30 p. m. today for a monster parade in celebration of the nation's first Defense Day, testing availability of its man power.

Military Demonstration Army airplanes from Kelly field, San Antonio, will roar overhead, dropping smoke bombs down along the line of march, and a demonstration, planes for which have been kept secret, will be let loose just before the procession gets underway from the K. C. S. depot to march up Procter street to Lions Park, at Stillwell boulevard.

Responding to the call issued by Col. C. H. Fitz-Gerald, general chairman of the celebration, and his committee, every group and organization in Port Arthur have listed their memberships and equipment as contributors to the Defense Day parade this afternoon. Red Cross nurses from the Port Arthur chapter, Mary Gates hospital, and the schools, ex-service men, soldiers in the National Guard units stationed in Port Arthur, a motor transport corps, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire girls, and civic organizations are among those which will be represented.

Pershing's Last Day For the celebration in Lions park, Rev. Charles E. Widener, pastor of the First Congregational church, has been selected as the principal speaker. Rev. A. G. Gratten, of the Catholic church, will give the invocation, and other parts of the exercises in the park include community singing and music by the band from the 11th Engineers Headquarters and Service company, and the Boosters' Band, which will play in the parade in the afternoon.

Planned to set forth the provisions of the National Defense Act passed by congress for keeping in touch with the national resources in peace times, Defense Day also will celebrate the anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, which was distinguished by the commission yesterday.

Salvation Army Worker Goes Hungry to Minister to Others

Pennies Buy But crumbs and Woman Nears Collapse; Then Ejection Faces Her When Rent is Unpaid

Threatened by her landlord with ejection from her rooming house, she could not pay her rent, and on the verge of physical collapse after days of hunger and work, a woman in charge of the Salvation Army work in Port Arthur was told over by three ex-service men here who happened to see her sitting alone and apparently in distress in the Army hall on Austin avenue several nights ago, if her name was known today.

Ministering in the name of "Him who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister," the worker said she asked financial help, only that she "might carry on for Jesus Christ and His cause. She told of her meetings in the roaring, throbbing heart of the downtown section, in the city jail and in the hospital, and how, when the tambourines were passed, only a few pennies were given.

The sum total of three nights' collections was less than one dollar. One night the Salvation Army worker turned away from the meeting with only a nickel dropped into the tambourine. Efforts to sell the Salvation Army's magazine, the War Cry, met with disheartening results.

But in that dark hour experienced by the Salvation Army worker here just two or three nights ago, even as she prayed God for help and relief, came a rift in the clouds. Braveheart, a confident, she will tell you, God answered her prayer that night.

Her faith that He will bless the Salvation Army work in Port Arthur, is blessing it even now, shall not be in vain, she maintains.

1897 Storm Hit 'Baby' City 27 Years Ago Today After Ceremony of Driving Golden Spike

Today is the anniversary of the 1897 hurricane recalled by the older pioneer residents of Port Arthur as a day when a struggling little community thriving only on projected improvements was suddenly stricken, eight of the few hundred population killed and the built-up part of the townsite strewn with the wreckage of homes and business houses.

Twenty-seven years ago, September 12 fell on Sunday, when a tired community slept late following a day of rejoicing over the driving of the golden spike which fastened the last rail to connect the two ends of the Kansas City, Pittsburgh and Gulf railroad, now the K. C. S., connecting Kansas City and Port Arthur; the latter a city but not named only but with work on the Port Arthur ship canal well under way.

The road had been built from Beaumont here and construction work had been completed to a point 18 miles above the county seat, where, with a fitting ceremony in the presence of a large crowd, large for that time, of local citizens who were taken there on a special train, the connection was made.

There were indications of a hurricane that Saturday but they were unrecognized by the inhabitants of Port Arthur, a population which at that time was almost 100 per cent made up of people from the inland who were making homes in a new country. Sunday morning came with overcast skies and the wind coming in fitful gusts. Towards noon its velocity increased as the clouds became darker and as the early dusk fell it was impossible for pedestrians to keep on the sidewalks. Shelter of any kind was sought and it was due to this fact that the loss of life was as great as it was.

With darkness came the rain and ninety-mile gale, the intermittent lightning revealing to the frightened population a scene of havoc and rapid growing desolation. The noise of the wind did not drown the tearing crashes of the lightly-built frame structures which housed the business and families of the city's pioneers and the kerosene lamps in the dwellings and stores were hastily extinguished as the structures went off the blocks.

The town for the most part was of buildings hastily erected by the first homesteaders, the Sabine hotel, the K.

40 Kiddies in Need Of Clothing So They May Go To School

MONDAY will be school day for 40 kiddies in Port Arthur. Monday will bring thrills and excitement attendant on such an occasion to many little boys and pretty girls—the thrills of books, and the thrills of new school clothes.

But unless the kind mothers and fathers of Port Arthur's school children, who know all about the needs of school days—the balmyest of all—awaken to the need of the less fortunate, 40 anxious little hearts, 40 worthy little kiddies who deserve an education, 40 boys and girls right here in our midst who long for an opportunity to be with other boys and girls, and who want to start school on the very first day will be disappointed.

This is the appeal sounded this morning by officials of the local Red Cross, who earlier in the week issued a call for clothing to prepare these 40 little fellows for the opening of school, but who said today that not a single response had been made.

"What do they need?" an official was asked.

"Everything — everything that children need to wear to school, and they shouldn't be shabbily dressed, either," was the reply.

So if you have anything you can give, or know of anyone who will give anything, phone 412, 1214 or 140, and the Red Cross will be glad to call for contributions of clothing.

BUTTE ACCEPTS GOP NOMINATION

State U. Law Dean Lands In New York

BARS KLAN TALK

'I'll Not Discuss It,' Says Ma's Opponent

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Informed of his nomination as republican candidate for governor of Texas, Dr. George C. Butte, dean of the law school of the state university, accepted the nomination upon his arrival here today aboard the Holland-American liner Rotterdam.

Dr. Butte had been abroad attending the bar association meetings in London and putting his 20-year-old son, George Jr., into Oxford.

Surprised at Nomination He expressed complete surprise at his nomination, saying he never had held political office and that he would not become the chairman of the state committee if the latter were to be present on the pier to meet him.

"But it's worth a try," he said, announcing he would resign and open up his campaign for the governorship, in which he will oppose "Ma" Ferguson, democratic nominee.

Pressed for a statement on his political views, Dr. Butte declined, saying:

"Nothing to Say" "I have nothing to say now. This thing came to me out of a clear sky. When I have a statement to make I will do so to my own people, on Texas soil."

Asked why he had been selected as republican nominee, he said:

"I certainly cannot say. I never have been in politics. The only public office I ever held was to organize the oil and gas department of the Texas railways, at the request of the state railroad commission."

As he left to find out when the first train would get him to Texas, Dr. Butte said over his shoulder:

"I will not discuss the Ku Klux Klan."

Proposed road to Galveston via High Island appeared today to have gone a-glimmering, at least so far as Galveston is concerned.

As a result, Commissioner W. A. Vaughan of Precinct 3, through which all of the new Jefferson county link from Sabine Pass to the Chambers county line would have passed, has dropped all preliminary arrangements made to hasten construction.

"I have been equipped to have completed the link within not more than three weeks," Commissioner Vaughan told The News today. "But it looks as though Galveston was unable to overcome their problem of providing Point to the island would be provided."

Since the High Island meeting held five weeks ago nothing further has been heard from the Galveston county commissioners relative to the proposed link.

At that time considerable enthusiasm was displayed by the Galveston county officials, though they recognized, they said, that they had a big job ahead of them in providing for regular ferry service.

Without a ferry the road will not be built, Commissioner Vaughan told The News today. The plan has been current here for several days, but the report lacks evidence of confirmation.

Reports that Houston interests had put a spoke in the plan have been current here for several days, but the report lacks evidence of confirmation.

New Training Course Solves Problem Of Working Youth Here

Superintendent G. W. Sims Announces Vocational Training Program to Begin Soon

'Ma's' Opponent

Decision to provide these added features in the schools at a cost of $10,326 for salaries of new teachers and increases in pay for the present faculty who will give instruction in the new lines, was made by the school board Tuesday night when a program and definite plans upon which the system will be operated were submitted to the members, Superintendent Sims said. Of the total $10,326 expense, $6,307 will come from state and federal distribution of educational appropriations and $4,019 from the local school treasury.

The three courses to be added to the schools and the purpose of each are set forth by Superintendent Sims as follows:

Constructive Courses

1. Day-trade classes to give boys and girls definite training for trades or occupations before they leave school.

2. Part-time classes to enable those who have gone to work before completing high school education and training an opportunity to continue their studies.

3. Evening school classes to give advanced instruction to tradesmen and tradeswomen who cannot leave their work during the day to attend the part-time classes, or who have not had an opportunity to receive training in the day-trade classes.

Messenger boys at telegraph offices, student nurses at Mary Gates hospital, and salespeople in Port Arthur are expected to be most benefited by the part-time classes, which will be arranged in the high school at periods during the day most convenient for those enrolling in these classes to attend, it is pointed out.

Special Instruction

Splendidly equipped laboratories and trained teachers can render an outstanding service to the hospital in training the student nurses, the courses arranged for this particular class of students in the part-time classes including dietetics, chemistry, psychology, physiology and anatomy. Classes of this type are now being

ARMORY SHOW OPENS TONIGHT

Full Houses Expected To Greet Entertainers

Final rehearsals for the cast of 150 held, stage settings and properties assembled, the production gotten up by the 11th Engineers for the benefit of the Port Arthur armory opens at 8:15 tonight in the Elks theater and will be presented Saturday and Sunday nights.

Dancing by the entire division of over 100 Camp Fire girls, and by solo dancers in the organization is planned as one of the features of the production, and other musical numbers will include numbers by Gordon Hanneman, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Durke, vocal selections by Mrs. J. E. Grammer, soprano; the Apollo Male Quartette, and the Joy Makers Jazz orchestra will play.

Ticket sales have been on at all the drug stores, a booth on Procter street, at Austin avenue, and in soft drink stands for several days, and indications are that full houses will greet the players in the show, those in charge of the production said today.

MAJOR FITZ-GERALD MAKES LIONS TALK

Six years ago today, at 4:04 a. m. the Ninetieth division, composed of Texas troops, went over the top in the St. Mihiel offensive. Major C. H. Fitz-Gerald told the Lions club today. Fitz-Gerald addressed the club on the purposes of Defense day, as established by the national defense act.

The Lions voted to follow the lead of the Rotarians, and march in the parade this afternoon.

FATHER, SON HELD AFTER DANCE ROW

Marked on the police blotter late Thursday night for the sheriff's department, an elderly man and his son were placed in the jail following their arrest at a dance hall out at El Vista by Deputy Sheriff L. Sindt.

A disturbance started at the dance, the deputy sheriff said, and the youth and his father resisted arrest when he went about to restore order.

DEFENSE OBSERVED BY CORPORATION COURT

Observing Defense Day today, no session of corporation court was held. A number of men arrested Thursday night on complaints of intoxication were allowed to enter pleas of guilty to Judge A. W. Dycus, pay their fines and go free, it was reported at police headquarters.

THEFT REPORTED

Port Arthur stores will close at 5 o'clock this afternoon for the Defense day parade to start at 5:30 from the foot of Houston avenue. This action was taken at the meeting of the Retail Merchants association this morning.

The action was in the form of a request that merchants close their places where practicable at this hour.

Mayor Logan also announced this morning that the city hall would close at 2:30 this afternoon for Defense Day.

Test to Solve Personnel Problem In Event of War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The nation today was testing the speed by which its manpower can be assembled for war. In every city and hamlet throughout the land citizens were responding to a stimulated call for volunteers.

Defense day, for which the army has been planning for months, both as a definite test of mobilization and as a tribute to its retiring head, General Pershing, is on.

By tonight the war department expects to have a satisfactory answer to two questions:

1—Can the manpower of the nation be mobilized fully and quickly under the machinery perfected by the army since the world war?

2—Can a voluntary call produce the requisite number of soldiers for a first levy?

The defense test is primarily an attack on the problem of personnel organization.

The immediate sequel of today's test will be revamping of the reserve army organization in those localities which fail today to recruit their units to full strength.

BEANS, BUT NOT FOR THE ARMY

Edibles To Play Big Role In Houston Suit

HOUSTON, Sept. 12.—Canned beans, millions of 'em—the kind that made Boston and the army famous—will play the leading role in a case filed in federal court here.

The Fremont Canning company of Fremont, Mich., is suing Gordon, Sewell company, Inc., Houston, for $5,000 alleging that they shipped several consignments of beans to the company for which they never received payment.

Canned goods are not new in federal court here, however. More than a year ago certain canned salmon was condemned as being overture for beautiful consumption. The salmon was opened in the courtroom and submitted to the judicial nose of Judge Hutchison. Whether the court will dine on the contested beans remains to be seen.

Death Knell Sounded For Professionalism In Santone Schools

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 12.—The death knell for professionalism in high school athletics has been sounded.

Changes in eligibility rules in the Texas interscholastic league are explained at a recent gathering of coaches, athletic directors, and principals of southwest Texas schools by Roy Bedichek, head of the league.

The most important and strictest rule is that in which an athlete becomes ineligible by playing with or against professionals or semi-professionals, whether accepting money or not.

GETS $50 RAISE FOR DOUBLING UP WORK

DALLAS, Sept. 12.—How would you like to be given a "raise" of $50 a month?

Because Inspector M. A. Evans is "doing the work of two men," it was recommended to the city commission that Evans receive the added pacifier in the payroll. The commission okayed the raise.

TEXAS ANTS THWART RAID BY DETECTIVES

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 12.—Texas ants have entered a trust with the bootleggers.

Millions of the little pests attacked city detectives and prohibition agents here recently as they lay in wait for a brew vendor. After a brief battle the officers capitulated with 87 bottles of beer but minus the manufacturer.

A sure thing is when daughter decides she is going anyhow.

ASK NEW TRIAL FOR A. GARCIA

Misconduct in Jury Room Claimed as Grounds

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 12.—Application for a new trial for Antonio Garcia, Port Arthur Mexican given a 10-year sentence for murder recently, was filed in 58th district court this morning.

All jurors who heard evidence on the case this morning were summoned to appear, when attorneys for Garcia declared a belief that there was some misconduct in the jury room. All jurors were questioned with reference as to whether they were influenced other than by the law and evidence of the case and all declared they had not been. One juror declared that he had not "listened to either of the attorneys on the case."

Additional arguments for a new trial will be introduced this afternoon. Attorneys for Garcia declare that new evidence on the case has recently been discovered which will warrant a new hearing. Garcia was convicted of killing Salvador Ybarro, an ex-Mexican, in Port Arthur on April 22, 1922.

WALL STREET JOURNAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Little trace of the irregularity which marred the action of the general list earlier in the week was in evidence in today's session. Some of the edge was taken off the bullish enthusiasm for the oil shares by the promulgation of reductions in gasoline prices covering a wide stretch of territory in the middle west. But even this proved reluctant to yield any of its recently regained ground, while the action of a whole was freer from selling pressure than at any time since the main upward movement was arrested.

In several directions renewed operations for the rise were undertaken, with the result that substantial gains were scored in General Baking, National Biscuit and Loose-Wiles. But it was in the railroad list that the strongest intonations were given of the practical completion of the work of technical readjustment. Norfolk and Western, Nickelplate and other standard issues of the carrier group displayed a spirit which appeared to suggest that stocks of this class were growing impatient in view of the promising outlook for earnings this fall, with traffic steadily expanding.

Stocks seemed to display a strong tone through the last hour, and further upward progress was made in many issues of the list. Rails were stimulated by the strength of the high grade dividend paying issues. D. and H. jumped two points to 139 and Nickelplate 12 to 174.

In the motor group new highs on the movement were reached by Studebaker at 52 and Maxwell "A" at 64. Public utilities were in special demand because of the excellent character of current earnings. Columbia Gas reached its best price of the week at 42 and Brooklyn Edison at 115. The market closed irregular.

General John Pershing Retires From Army

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A tall, vigorous, gray haired man, just one day under 64 years of age, looked out of his apartment window this morning at the dull skies.

To others, perhaps, it was just a September morn. To John J. Pershing, general of the armies of the United States, it was the beginning of the end—the ending of his 42 years military career.

Tonight, at midnight, Pershing traverses that infinitesimal moment of time which congress has decreed marks the dividing line between a military man's usefulness and uselessness.

But he's going to be busy some way.

"The field of usefulness is as broad as the world and it's a poor kind of a man who couldn't find something to do," he told friends.

DAVIS TAKES UP LEAGUE CRUSADE

Lifts Torch of Fallen Democratic Leader

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 12.—Defense day bringing memories to the great thousands of American homes, found John W. Davis, democratic standard bearer, taking up the crusade for the league of nations where Woodrow Wilson left off.

In the same hall—the municipal auditorium, where Wilson spoke last as a well man, Davis departed from his speech on western problems to lift the torch of the fallen leader of democracy.

With a throb in his voice that was new to his campaigning, the democratic candidate made an appeal for co-operation with Europe that set all Denver talking today as nothing else in his speech did.

Davis related a parable to drive home his message to the people—an indictment of the isolation policy of the republicans and the Fordney-McCumber tariff law.

—SO HENCEFORTH, "LION" IS TABOO

No longer will the brotherly Lions formally pat one another on the back and term themselves in luncheon discussions as "Lion so" or "Lion that."

"Mr. Lion" is taboo in Lions club meetings, and it costs a dime every time a Lion spills the figurative beans by calling a brother of the den "Mister."

J. R. Denney told the meeting today he was tired of the "Lion" form of address and didn't like "Mister" either.

"Why can't we call one another Pete, Mike and Ike, and get better acquainted here in our meetings?" Applause greeted the suggestion. Motion passed.

MAKE RESERVATIONS FOR Y.M.B.L. BANQUET

All Port Arthurians planning to attend the Y. M. B. L. banquet at the Pleasure Pier Monday night are asked by Clarence DeBusk, secretary, to make reservations with him as soon as possible. DeBusk can be reached at the Chamber of Commerce.

A Rockland, Me., man, afflicted with a nightmare that he was being attacked, rose and returned the blows of his fancied assailant with such force that he broke both of his arms on the bureau.

NEW TYPED CAR FOR STUDEBAKER

Open-Closed, Style Forecast In Announcement

Special to The News.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 12.—A sensational development in motor car design, it is now definitely known, will be announced by Studebaker this coming Sunday. The car, which is said to be entirely unlike anything ever offered before, is a solution to the open-closed car problem which motorists have known since the "horseless carriage" first came into being.

The name of the revolutionary car, it is known, will be the "duplex phaeton," and there will also be duplex roadsters, combining the outstanding advantages of present-type open cars with the snug comfort and all-weather protection of the closed car.

New Six Out Also

Besides this new-type car, reliable sources confirm the rumors that Studebaker will announce a new six, and 15 all-new body styles.

It is the first far-reaching announcement to be made by this famous manufacturer of fine cars since 1918.

Studebaker offered several revolutionary changes in automobiles in 1912. Then, in 1918, after a series of gradual refinements in its models.

Boils!

Ouch!

S.S.S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in the U. S. The larger size is more economical.

SENSATION SEEN IN ACQUISITION

Premier's Biscuit Company Stock Enters Politics

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Disclosure by the Daily Mail that Premier MacDonald March 12, last acquired possession of 30,000 shares of a great Scotch biscuit company, valued at one pound per share, promised today to develop into a political sensation of the first magnitude.

The Morning Post, after commenting on the fact that the socialist prime minister made no attempt to conceal his ownership of the shares, says:

Refutes Ownership

"It only remains for the prime minister to afford the public the explanation which is its due, having regard for the fact that in a speech at Carlisle on January 29 of this year, Mr. MacDonald said:

"I hear securities have gone up. I don't know. I have nothing of this world's goods to turn into securities."

In an interview at Lossiemouth, where he was returning from a picnic, MacDonald made a statement regarding the securities of the McVitie and Price Biscuit company.

"The capital is not mine," he said, "only technically over the shares. The matter has nothing to do with politics."

Sir Alexander Grant, principal adviser of the McVitie and Price, replied a baronetcy last June.

Referring to this, the prime minister said:

"Sir Alexander received his honor for public services, including the gift of a national library to Scotland."

CROWE WARNS AGAINST BOYS

Couches Statement in Bitter Terms

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Playing the role of Nemesis to the last, States Attorney Robert E. Crowe issued a general statement to the public in which he warns against possible attempts to parole Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaire youths now serving life sentences in the state penitentiary for killing Bobby Franks.

The statement, of great length, was couched in bitter terms. By inference, Crowe criticized Justice Caverly for failing to impose the penalty of death.

"Should Have Hanged"

"It is unfortunate for the welfare of the community that they were not sentenced to hang," Crowe declared. "The murder and kidnapping of Bobby Franks struck terror to the heart of every father and mother throughout the community."

"Without doubt, it is the most terrible criminal offense that has been perpetrated in this generation."

Crowe called on the Illinois department of public welfare to guard against freeing the youths.

GIVES PINT OF BLOOD TO SAVE MAN'S LIFE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Dr. Elsie Berger, daughter of Congressman Victor Berger of Wisconsin, is the heroine of emergency hospital here today.

She gave a pint of her blood to save the life of a man who tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat. It was evident that only a blood transfusion would save his life and Dr. Berger, the only woman interne at the hospital, volunteered.

FACIST DEPUTY SHOT BY MAN IN LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Armando Castano, a fascist deputy, was shot and probably fatally wounded here today.

The assailant, a socialist who gave his name as Corvie, was arrested and said he was attempting to avenge the assassination of the murdered socialist deputy, Matteotti.

Corvie fired four shots at Castano at close range and the deputy fell. Physicians said he could not live.

CITY FINANCES AHEAD OF GAME

Report Is Contrast to That For Last Year

Port Arthur's city finances this year are $16,394.53 ahead of the game for the first four months of the fiscal year, closed on July 31, according to figures compiled by City Clerk E. H. Miles.

Amounts saved in various funds totaled $19,448.81, against $3,055.28 spent over the budget proportion out of other funds. Some of these over-expenditures, however, will balance up with the next period, it is expected.

BREAK ERECTED TO HALT FIRE

200 Work Frantically To Save Observatory

PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 12.—Two hundred men worked frantically today to construct a fire break about the waist of Mount Wilson to protect the great U. S. Solar Observatory on its crest from fire raging through San Gabriel canyon.

After many days the fire, the worst in California this season, is still beyond control.

State and federal forestry authorities were tapping every available source for fire fighters.

FREED OF ASSAULT CHARGE ON MEXICAN

HOUSTON, Sept. 12.—Deputy Constable J. E. Naquin, charged with assault in arresting J. Prieto Laurens, Mexican student, which resulted in exchange of several notes between the United States and the Mexican government, has been acquitted. Laurens admitted on the stand that he struck the officer while being evicted from a dance hall.

TOBACCO PLANT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

WARSAW, N. C., Sept. 12.—More than 100 employees of the L. J. Jenkins Tobacco company here lost their jobs when fire destroyed the stemming plant.

Twenty carloads of tobacco were consumed by the flames. Damage totaled $100,000.

RELIABLE FOR ECZEMA, PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES

The people here who have gotten such wonderful results from Black and White Ointment, and Soap, for pimples, blotches, bumps, "breaking out," eczema, rash, itching, etc., are proving their gratitude by giving them the most wholehearted and enthusiastic word-of-mouth publicity ever known.

The fact that Black and White Ointment and Soap are already selling at the phenomenal and unheard-of rate of more than two million packages a year, proves louder than words how dependable they are to people who had never before been able to get relief from their skin troubles by using anything else.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are economically priced in liberal size packages. The 30c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap. —Ad.

DAWES FLAYS LA FOLLETTE

Liberal Leader Denounced As Chief of Mob

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 12.—In a second sortie into enemy territory, Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential candidate characterized Senator Robert M. La Follette, head of the independent ticket, as the leader of a mob, and the "master demagogue."

In a speech here last night, heard by hundreds of friends of the Wisconsin senator, Dawes flayed La Follette for his efforts to curb the powers of the supreme court.

Called "Demagogue"

"La Follette in this campaign represents the quintessence of demagogism, animated by the vicious purpose of undermining the constitutional foundation of this republic," Dawes cried.

Dawes appealed to the voters of Wisconsin to repudiate La Follette and the "red flag with its heterogeneous combination, the largest portion of which are the socialists, opposing the existing order of things."

NAMES MORE WORKERS FOR DEMO FINANCES

HOUSTON, Sept. 12.—Names of additional county chairmen in Texas for the national democratic finance committee were announced Thursday by Chairman W. L. Clayton, Houston.

They are:

Charles L. Wilkins, Brenham; Judge Walter Strong, Dalhart; J. W. Dunham, Lufkin; S. M. Adams, Nacogdoches; Dan Hightower, Hebbronville; J. I. Kilpatrick, Cleburne; Ralph H. Folett, Angleton; and C. A. Erickson, Bay City.

ATTORNEY STILL DENIES VICTORY

Darrow Says Trial Over, Has No Comment

CHARLEVION, Mich., Sept. 12.—Clarence Darrow, veteran barrister, who defended Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold and perhaps saved their lives, "is through with the Franks case," and "did not win a victory."

"We didn't win a victory," Darrow said today. "But the trial is over and I'm through discussing it."

Darrow repeated his statement that the parents of the boys were satisfied.

H. R. H. WAS NOT AT FIRPO-WILS SCRAP

SYOSSET, L. I., Sept. 12.—None of 1,078 young men at the Firpo-Wills fight wearing hats with turned down brims and overcoats with collars was the Prince of Wales.

If it matters anyone, the prince was not at the bout.

Captain Lascelles, his secretary, says he wasn't and that is the final word on the matter.

JACKIE COOGAN SCORES

Jackie Coogan as a little Belgian boy with baggy trousers, funny little cap, great, clumsy, clattering wooden shoes and pitched jacket with large buttons of assorted shapes and sizes—Jackie Coogan as little Nello, the immortal hero of Ouida's story, came to the Peoples theater last night, and when he disappeared he had the hearts of the audience with him.

The setting is quaint with a charm unique. The costumery adds a touch of fantastic and charming; the story is set in the present, and again Jackie is restored to his enduring rags. No longer is he the proud prince of an ancient ruling house. He is the orphaned boy whom fate has cast in the loving, tender but poverty-stricken arms of an aged grandfather living a league or two from Antwerp.

And there is a dog. Teddy is the player of the role of Petrarche. In Ouida's immortal story, "A Dog of Flanders," from which Jackie's picture takes its origin, this noble beast plays an important part of equal prominence. Indeed the faithfulness with which the spirit and letter of Ouida's juvenile have been retained in the picture merits particular

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY IT IS EASIER FOR A CAMEL TO GO THROUGH THE EYE OF A NEEDLE, THAN FOR A RICH MAN TO ENTER INTO THE KINGDOM OF GOD.—MATT. 19:24.

The Editorial Mind

Dr. Frank Crane's Editorials

It is a question whether partisanship is not like the breaking up of the atom. There is no stopping it. And there is developed inside of parties the same spirit that makes the party itself.

People are usually attached to parties on personal reasons as well as traditional and customary ones. No one is attached to a party by his intelligence, for a little sound thinking would be quite as apt to show him that he should revolt from his party as often as he clings to it.

It has been said by Protestantism that being the spirit of revolt, it is in danger of constant schism and that it is very difficult for a body of Protestants to hold together. Since they began upon the principle of the resistance to authority it is very difficult to curb that principle when it is once established.

We therefore see Protestantism breaking up into an infinite number of sects and divisions, once it has broken away from the mother church. In the same way, we see that parties find that it is increasingly difficult to hold their people together once they admit that loyalty to party is a greater thing than loyalty to the country itself.

It is a question whether Democrats hate Republicans worse than they hate other Democrats, and Republicans hate Democrats worse than they hate other Republicans.

It has been well said that we hate to see so much as our neighbor.

The party system is founded upon discontent and dissatisfaction. It is always a more telling argument when we speak of the defectiveness of our opposing party than of the merits of our own, and it is always easy to find defects in anything. Campaign literature and orators, therefore, may be depended upon more to view with alarm what the other party does and does not than to point with pride to one's own party record.

Doubtless the party system will be cured by its own inherent viciousness. It will destroy itself by its own principles.

In New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—New York stage door John—the brave young blades who wait expectantly and with well filled pocketbooks for the footlight beauties—are more ardent in their midnight tryst than their English brothers of London, according to three chorus members of a British musical revue whom I interviewed last night.

The English girls, pretty and far better dancers, as a group, than American choruses, have been here for months, so their observations are interesting.

"In London," they related, "if a boy out front takes a shine to a girl in the show, he modestly sends notes in candy and flowers for at least two months before he would dare braving a stage door meeting."

Then to contrast the situation, "But here in New York, the dashing American boys, rush up, take you by the arm, and say, 'I like your looks; you'll like me when you know me better; come quick, let's waste no time becoming acquainted.'"

The strange part, they confided, the American boys with their strenuous methods are very frequently successful in their stage door raids on the English girls.

"We like them heaps; we think they are very amusing."

"Under their bluster, veneer the American boys are very conventional—far more so than English men. Why, they are very proper about when and where girls smoke cigarettes."

EX-OFFICER TRIED FOR BANK ROBBERY

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 12.—Carl Killingsworth, former deputy sheriff, faced a prison sentence today for his part in the $24,000 robbery of the Exchange National bank here.

Mrs. Edith Conway, former police woman, was acquitted a week ago on similar charges. She was arrested, and will be tried on charges of accepting stolen property.

LEAGUE URGED TO HALT GEORGIA WAR

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—Great Britain, France and Belgium introduced a joint resolution in the league council today, urging the league council to intervene in the revolution in Georgia whenever the opportunity offers, in conformity with international law, for purpose of securing a peaceful settlement. Premier Herriot and Prime Minister MacDonald, agreed upon the resolution when they were here and were of the opinion that neither Germany or Russia would take offense because the league's intention had the pacific object of halting bloodshed. Moreover it was the league's duty to take up any question menacing peace.

BEAUMONT CLIQUE IN ATTEMPT TO HI-JACK PREC. 2 OF FUNDS

Since the whale had a stomach full of Jonah no one, probably, has had such a stomach full of puerile bunkum about this road building business as Port Arthur. We're damned if we do and damned if we don't. We're intimidated, threatened, flattered, gouged in the eye, patted on the back and slapped on the cheek because of a Christian ability to stand for it.

Why? A Beaumont clique, discovering that Beaumont has spent its own precinct funds building a network of roads which ramify all over the north county to serve Beaumont wholesale and business houses now wants Precinct 2 to play financial daddy for them. They haven't any more money themselves so they want Precinct 2 to furnish it for them free, gratis and with our compliments. They've got so many road schemes to corral the rural buyers' money they are worried how they're going to put them through. Their merchants are clamoring for action.

So this bunch of Beaumonters, who would be horrified beyond measure if some one stuck a gun in their ribs and demanded that they fork over their cash, are trying to hold up Precinct 2 at the point of a shotgun.

The shotgun in the case is an editorial appearing in a Beaumont morning paper several days ago, product of the brain hatchery of some person laboring under the handicap of monumental ignorance and misinformation.

All the hijacking editorial needs to back it up is a willing victim, a black mask and a weapon. Here's an extract:

"Suppose we put the Gulf Refinery and Texas Company refinery below Port Arthur in the Sabine Pass district and the Humphries Pure Oil, the Texas Company at Port Neches and the Magnolia in Precinct No. 1? That would make things terribly complicated, wouldn't it?"

There you have the Beaumont spirit bared to the bone. Election is over. Port Arthur has voted. It's open season again on Port Arthur. Johnny, get your gun! Precinct 2 has a bunch of unspent money! It should be spent where it would do the most good—for Beaumont.

This is the same editorial writer who clamors every year that the county should keep the auto license fees instead of handing them over to the state highway commission. A good argument—but it's a poor argument that can't at least be consistent.

Well, we've heard this old gag before. The only reason we have any road money left in Precinct 2 apparently is because Huntsville has a thriving penitentiary.

Not so many months ago an attempt was made to shear Precinct 2 of its finances. Instead of finding a Port Arthur sheep Beaumont found we had its goat. Consequently the fund has remained unimpaired for purposes of building roads in Precinct 2, for which taxpayers in Precinct 2 paid it.

In the course of human events chickens have a habit of coming home to roost. Once—several times—Port Arthur and Precinct 2 asked the hand of co-operation in linking needed roads with Beaumont precincts. The overtures fizzled, for the simple reason that Beaumont was afraid of Port Arthur, this infant suddenly grown to manhood.

Now Beaumont selects a half dozen—or is it a dozen?—roads for improvement, all of them calculated to further its trade status. Having refused to cooperate with Precinct 2, it demands that Precinct 2 help foot the bill—for projects which, if correctly outlined in the rambling account by the editorial writer, won't be of two cents benefit to Precinct 2.

We have no objection to Beaumont having three dozen highways.

But let them build them themselves, unless they can kick in with projects which will give us, also, a run for our money.

LAFOLLETTE AND LABOR

Senator LaFollette sent his labor day message to the American electorate. He pledged himself to stamp out all trusts, to destroy all monopolies, to dissipate all grievances, to curb the power of despotic courts, to bring about the election of federal judges by the people, to make it possible for congress to enact laws which could not be set aside, to make all producers prosperous and happy and all consumers satisfied and well-fed. This is the open season for political pledge making.

Advertising

HOW MUCH WILL THE BALLOON HOLD BEFORE BURSTING

STORE OWNER

How much should a retail store spend for advertising?

Advertising as well as other expenses must pay returns for money spent. There are perhaps no two stores which require exactly the same amount. As in all things, peculiar conditions govern particular cases.

Amounts spent by other stores handling similar merchandise, however, guide the way to a correct advertising expenditure.

Specialty stores spend about 3 1/2 cents out of each dollar taken in for advertising. Large department stores spend a somewhat similar amount; the smaller ones spend about half as much.

Jewelry stores, ordinarily spend from 2 1/2 to 4 cents per dollar of sales, depending upon the size of the store. Shoe stores get along with an expenditure ranging from 1 1/2 to nearly 4 cents and again the largest stores spend the most. Grocery stores ordinarily advertise very little compared with these other stores, spending less than half of one per cent on an average. Hardware stores, spend somewhat over half of one per cent of sales.

The NERVOUS WRECK by E.J. Rath ©1924 - by NEA Service Inc

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The "Nervous Wreck," an eccentric young easterner is driving Sally Morgan from her father's ranch to the station when they run out of gasoline. At the point of a gun the Wreck takes five gallons from a passing car.

Later Charlie McSwen, foreman of a ranch along the route, makes them captives because he wants Sally for a ranch cook. It develops that Mr. Underwood, the owner of the ranch, was in the car which they held up. Sally and the Wreck finally escape from the ranch, run into a camp of real bandits, are captured a second time, and then escape again. Fleeing on foot from the bandits come the sheriff and the horse belonging to Sheriff Bob Wells, Sally's fiancé, who is at the head of a posse searching for the "bandits" who held up Underwood.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Say, are you trying to get me nervous about this?" demanded the Wreck. "Because you're wasting time, if you are, I can just cut this."

Sally eyed him with a speculative look as he began running his fingers through the mane of the black horse. She had never seen the Wreck looking quite so buoyant. Presently she began to laugh.

"I wish old Wells could see you," she said.

"Yes?"

"Oh, you needn't get belligerent. I'm laughing at Bob. He'd either curl up and die or shoot you, I don't know which."

The Wreck shrugged and eased himself in the saddle. Then he began laughing himself.

"Well, what do we do next, Sally?"

"Keep moving, I suppose."

"Which way?"

It was getting to be a fine morning as she swung about in her saddle and began studying the country.

Then she led the way again, across a meadow. The Wreck could not understand her. In her place, he would have wanted to get to Chicago, even over the dead bodies of sheriffs and hold-up men, if necessary, to his buying and finish up what he started out to do. But here was a person who did not seem to care whether she completed her errand or not. It struck him as peculiar.

They broke into a trot and he did not mind it in the least. What did he care if he fell off?

Soon they were climbing a hillside, and when it became too steep for the horses, they dismounted.

"Well, leave them here," said Sally. "Just throw the reins over his head and he'll stand. I think we ought to go up to the top for a better look."

CHAPTER XXII

The Wreck Surrenders

It was not the highest of the hills, but it was bare at the top, so that it afforded them a panorama that boxed the compass.

"I'm sure that streak off to the north," said Sally. "Is the main road?"

The Wreck nodded his agreement. "I've about made up my mind," said Sally. "To go back to the Bar-M. I don't want you to think I'm a quitter. But I'm not sure that I have any errands in Chicago. Not now, at any rate."

"That's all right."

"Saddle sore?" she asked suddenly.

"No!"

"I think if you could always ride the sheriff's horse, Henry, you'd overcome your prejudice—provided the sheriff happened to be wanting it."

He grinned.

The Wreck was glancing in the direction where he thought Pittsburg lay when his eye was attracted by a movement of something in the meadow below them.

"What's that?" he asked, pointing.

"Two horses, with riders," said Sally promptly. "And they're following our trail."

"I left the rifle hanging on the saddle," he said, sheepishly.

"Let's hustle down and get it. Besides, we want our own horses."

Half running, half sliding, they started down the steep hillside.

"Keep behind the rocks and trees as much as you can," she advised.

They dodged into cover wherever they could find it, working downward in a zigzag course toward the spot where they left the horses. The horses were not in sight.

"I'm afraid they've drifted down toward the meadow," she said. What do you think we'd better do?"

"Keep going."

"But if they reach the horses first—"

"We've got to take a chance. Maybe it's nobody who'll bother us, anyhow."

She had misgivings on that score, but followed him as he took the lead.

A few minutes later when he was several yards in advance, she saw him stop abruptly and make a signal for caution. He pointed to an opening in the

Rev. Oliphant to Preach Last Sermon Tonight

The closing service of the DeQueen Park Church of Christ revival being conducted by Evangelist W. L. Oliphant will be held tonight at 7:45 o'clock when the evangelist will speak on "Excuse Me, Please!"

Last evening's topic was "The Unknown Tongue." In spite of the showers, a large audience heard the speaker.

Mr. Oliphant said:

No "Unknown" Tongue

"If you will get your Bible and read those passages that speak of the 'unknown tongue,' you will find that the word 'unknown' is always italicized. The word being in italics indicates that it is not in the original Greek, as written by the inspired writers, but was added by the translators. In the original writings of the New Testament there is no such expression as 'unknown tongue.' Paul explains the meaning of the gift of tongues in First Corinthians, 14:21. Here he says: 'It is written in the law, with men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people.' So the gift of tongues does not have reference to speaking a language which no one can understand. When Jesus offered a religion which was world-wide, He gave to His apostles the power to speak the various languages of earth. On the first Pentecost after Jesus' crucifixion, Peter exercised this gift in speaking to men of seventeen nationalities. 'If I were to go into a congregation where only the French language is spoken, my language would be to them an 'unknown tongue.' Since I could not edify them by speaking to them, it would be my duty to keep silent, unless there is an interpreter present."

"Nowhere in the Bible is it taught that God wants us to speak a language which no one can understand. Paul says tongues are for a sign. A sign which cannot be understood is worthless."

NEW TRAINING

conducted in the public schools in El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston and San Antonio.

Under the new vocational training plan, a special teacher of retail selling, devoting her whole time to this phase of the part-time classes, will be employed by the Port Arthur schools. This teacher will conduct classes in downtown stores in the morning, according to an outline of the plan given by school authorities, and gives the remainder of the time to part-time co-operative classes in the high school.

In the co-operative retail selling classes, high school students are given instruction in retail selling as part of the regular high school course, and then they will go out into the stores afterwards, Saturdays and holidays, to work as though regularly employed on the sales staffs. The state plan requires that the students in this course shall put in 120 school hours in store service during the first year and 180 hours during the second year.

Open to Employed Youth

Classes for messenger boys employed by the telegraph companies have been endorsed by the Western Union company in a letter sent out to all general managers. Superintendent Sims said: "This phase of the part-time classes is working out and developing as one of the most satisfactory of the entire scheme of part-time education, school officials declared. Reading, writing, arithmetic, special subjects and the entire curriculum of the public schools is made possible for the boys without having to give up their work to enroll in the schools."

Open to all employed tradesmen and tradeswomen over 16 years of age are the evening classes which will be opened in the Port Arthur schools, giving 50 lesson courses in the following trades:

Auto mechanics, blue print reading, machine shop practice, pipefitting, steel square and roof framing, sheet metal pattern drafting, blacksmithing and tool making and printing.

The short courses to be offered in the evening classes make it possible for the tradesmen to take up only those units of the trade in which he is interested or needs advanced instruction, school officials pointed out.

Line-up of the vocational training which Port Arthur schools will provide for students who desire to learn trades and occupations while carrying on their regular scholastic work shows automobile mechanics, machine shop practice, carpentry and mill work, related mathematics and drawing, retail selling and similar subjects offered.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE, CONTINUED

"I won't have you talking to that fellow!" exclaimed Jack. I shook my head at him. "What's the matter?" said Karl. "Your voice does not sound at all like you."

"There is nothing the matter except Jack just got in last evening and brought little Jack, and I guess my nerves went back on me, for I faint, but I'm all right now. When you first called up, Jack seemed to think I was not well enough to answer the phone, but when I knew it was you I insisted upon taking your message myself."

"You got my letter, did you?" "Yes, dear."

There was a smothered exclamation from my husband behind my back. "It was a very splendid letter, very brave, very self-sacrificing. I haven't had time yet to show it to Jack, but I'm going to."

"Will you tell him that if he wants to see me, or even if he wants to see Alice, I shall insist upon her making an explanation to him. Of course, you must remember that Alice was not quite herself. She still is very unsettled and nervous. She must have some kind of excitement all the time, then again she is very melancholy. I am not sure that I will not have to take her out of the country. Poor child. I do not know what she would do if it were not for me, as she has seemed to take a sudden fear that her mother and father do not love her any more, and of course she says that you will never care for her again. I called you up to ask if you would not write her a little note to let her know you have forgiven her?"

"I think it would be better, Karl, if you would insist upon Alice coming home. If she gets over the morbid fear of meeting us and knows that we still care for her, I think everything will be all right. Why don't you try to get her here while Jack is with us, and we'll have a kind of family reunion."

"He'll have to come pretty sudden," Jack interrupted. "My business won't let me stay away more than a day. I'm going back not later than tomorrow night."

"I was in a quandary, Ruth. I didn't know how to finish my conversation with Karl with Jack standing there. I didn't want him to know that my husband was still angry with me, and I knew that Karl would want me to make some explanation."

Karl happily said: "Here comes Alice. I do not think we would better talk any more. She has become very suspicious of everything I do."

"Goodbye, then. I'll answer your letter tomorrow."

"I'll say you won't," again came the ugly voice behind me. Ringing off with a jerk I turned and faced my husband. "I'll say I will. I'm tired of your sudden tempers, John. I am going to be a free-born white woman from now on."

"Then I think I would better say goodbye and return," came in cold, cutting accents. "You can do quite as you please. I have made all the concessions possible."

Fate intervened, however. Mother came in and said to Jack: "Jack, your father wants to see you."

Without a look backward, he strode away. (Copyright, 1914, NEA Service, Inc.)

SALVATION ARMY

carry on in the face of indifference, heartlessness and her own physical suffering," one of the ex-service men said Saturday night.

A collection that doubled the entire amount taken in by herself for several nights past was made up by the ex-service men and given to the Salvation Army, the worker said.

The president of a Port Arthur bank dropped a check for $10 into the tabernacle at the meeting on the Austin-Procter corner the next night. And steadily more coins are being dropped into the tabernacles at the open air meetings of the workers. No less than 20 Port Arthur business men whom the Salvation Army worker says she did not know were interested in the least bit in her or her work have assisted her since that sorrowful experience recently.

"When calls come in for food and clothes for needy people, my heart breaks because there is not enough money to keep us, much less to minister to the wants of others. But we are praying God to put it into the hearts of people here to help us to help others, and the results of those prayers are increasing every day. My faith is so strong that I know the Salvation Army will be able to render real and broad service in Port Arthur," the woman declared Saturday night.

Wills Lacks Steam To Finish Up Job On Firpo

RICKARD WINS GATE DECISION

Crowd of 80,000 Sees Mediocre Battle

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—

With a big pair of brown hands that spread out in front of him like a fan and that pumped into action like an air hammer, Harry Wills, former stevedore of New Orleans, took all the wildness out of Luis Angel Firpo in Jersey City last night and gave him a severe beating in 12 rounds.

No decision is permitted by the boxing law in New Jersey, but a decision never was so unnecessary. Not even the partisan followers of the South American champion, who sat with the 80,000 in Tex Rickard's arena felt that Firpo could win after he had been dropped in the second round with a long right to the jaw.

Wills completely smothered the attack of the South American. He spread his big hands, caught the arms of Firpo as they swung in at him, and held him powerless.

When the ponderous right of the South American did penetrate the perfect guard and reached the jaw it had no more effect than to produce a wide New Orleans grin. There was no steam in the punches that had dropped Jack Dempsey twice and knocked him out of the ring once last summer.

Wills saw Dempsey and Firpo fight last summer and he learned a good lesson. He didn't try to swap punches with the South American and he saw to it that Firpo didn't get enough room to get his club swinging into action.

Wills fought from the first like Dempsey did in the second round and he had the South American just as helpless.

Wills had many chances to win by a knockout but he lacked the power of punch noted by Dempsey. Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager, said after the fight that Wills hurt his hand in the fourth round.

Flops for Count of Six
Firpo who stepped back from a clinch in the second round, when Wills crashed over a long right to the jaw and Firpo flopped to the floor for the count of six. He came up fighting just as he did in the Dempsey fight and kept Wills from pressing the advantage.

In the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, ninth and eleventh rounds Wills had Firpo in distress from rights to the jaw and body but he could not finish the job.

Firpo didn't win a round. One might have been called even. The South American's left side was a mass of bruises and in the late round Wills' hard rights to the ribs broke the skin and puffed the flesh. Among the many distinguished spectators at the ring side was Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, who left while the fighters were throwing each other around the ring in the sixth round. Dempsey's lack of interest was typical of the feeling of the big crowd at one of the poorest exhibitions ever seen at a big fight. It was also a tip off on the situation resulting from a bout that will be arranged to decide the next opponent for Dempsey.

"Good Workout," Says Wills
Wills did nothing to distinguish himself as a challenger for Dempsey's title.

Firpo said after the fight that he had been bothered in his training by the activities of the reformers and that he was worried when he entered the ring.

Wills said it was just a good workout for him.

Buenos Aires Sad As Results Come In
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 12.—Buenos Aires was stunned by the fall of its ring idol before the gorilla-like arms of Harry Wills in Jersey City last night. A huge crowd, estimated as high as 100,000, which had gathered in front of newspaper offices to read the round by round bulletins, sat the round, melted silently away as word was flashed over the cables that Wills had beaten Luis Firpo by a wide margin.

The Argentinians had been all set for a Firpo victory by a knockout.

There was some bitterness at what newspapers have termed the "legal persecution" of Firpo, writers calling attention to the moody temperament of the fighter and the depression which naturally would follow tilts he had with the process servers.

On the whole, however, the newspapers and the population generally were inclined to give Wills his dues. Associates of Firpo here had hoped for a return bout under more favorable conditions.

Another Day In the Majors
Yesterday's Hero—Ed Brown, Brooklyn outfielder, singled in the 11th inning and drove over the run that beat the Phils 8 to 7.

Babe Ruth's 45th home run with Dugan on, gave the Yanks a 4 to 3 victory over the Red Sox in the first game and the champions took the second game easily 8 to 3.

O'Rourke's double in the tenth moved across the run that gave the Tigers a 5 to 4 victory over the White Sox.

With a lot of timely hitting the Indians took a double-header from the Browns 12 to 7 and 10 to 6.

Scoring five runs in the last two innings, the Senators came from behind and beat the Athletics 7 to 4.

Tilden and Johnston In Doubles Today

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—With a lead of two points after the opening matches of the Davis cup challenge round against the Australians, the American cup defenders have a cinch to retain the classic trophy in the doubles match at the Germantown Cricket club this afternoon.

William T. Tilden and William M. Johnston, will pair up against Gerald Patterson, captain of the challengers and Pat O'Hara Wood.

In the opening matches yesterday Tilden defeated Patterson, 6-4, 6-2, and 6-2, and Vincent Richards, the youthful Olympic champion won from Wood, 6-3, 6-2 and 6-2.

Veterans Plentiful As S.M.U. Training Starts

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 12.—Fired by the conference championship victory of its fighting little team last season, forty ambitious candidates reported Wednesday to the officials of the Southern Methodist University football squad for the hard grind preparatory to the 1924 season. Conference rules alone have withheld the training this long, as the candidates have been anxious to begin but were precluded by the conference statutes which forbid advance work before September 10.

Ray Morrison and Ewing Freedland, coaches, were on hand to take charge of the athletes and without any preliminaries began work on a schedule already mapped out for the training season. Morrison spent the summer at Knute Rockne's school for coaches.

The candidates reporting Wednesday were invited to attend the preliminary training and from this list will be drawn the warriors who will head the Mustangs this season. Picking the first lineup is not exceptionally difficult this year. Practically a veteran backfield is back, two of the three wings who lettered and three giants of the line in Magnus, McIntosh and Lake Morrison, returning for the new fight. Perhaps the selection of a center will be the most difficult assignment the mentors have to face, but the 1923 freshman squad developed several men who could be used in emergencies. It is probable one of these will be groomed for regular snapper-back or understudy.

The men who reported Wednesday for training are:
1923 Varsity—W. E. Bedford, Dallas, end; J. Magnus, Honey Grove, tackle; Lake Morrison, line, Ferris; E. Dickinson, half, Sherman; Capt. Logan Menewick, quarter, Hillsboro; Hubert Walling, half; Lawrence Reiser, fullback, Celeste; Pearson, half, Lubbock; R. McIntosh, line, Dallas; Collis Irby, line, Dallas; Sid Henry, line, Dallas.

Home State Boys On Yost's Michigan Team

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 12.—Michigan football squad will be made up of 63 players when preliminary practice starts September 15 of this number, over half, or 32, of them are natives of the Wolverine state.

That speaks quite well for scholastic football as it is played in Michigan, considering that aspirants for the Maize and Blue eleven hail from practically every state above the Mason and Dixon line and as far west as the coast. Eight of the candidates come from Detroit, where 11 high schools have aided them in making ready for a trial on a big university team. The others are scattered all around the commonwealth.

Ohio claims six, Illinois four and Minnesota and Indiana one each. From New York state comes William Heath, a backfield prospect, while Kentucky is represented by Ediff Slaughter of Louisville, star lineman for the past two seasons. C. J. Munz, an end, from Denver, Colo., is quite a distance from home and Canada boasts one candidate for gridiron honors in M. H. Shatz, a back from Toronto.

DOUBLE PLAYS COUNT HEAVILY

Cubs and Macks Had Crack Infields

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The outstanding major league clubs of the last 20 years have boasted great infields.

Few pennants have been won by teams lacking an inner defense that could not only field but also hit.

From 1906 to 1911 the Chicago Cubs of the National League were the big noise in that organization. The Cubs had a great infield.

Baseball fans will readily recall the Cub combination of Steinfeldt at third, Joe Tinker at short, Johnny Evers at second and Frank Chance at first.

In winning pennants and world series games for Chicago, the Cub infield played a most important part. Great on defense, it was almost as dangerous on the offense. That quartet could field, hit and think.

Then came the Philadelphia Athletics, who for several years monopolized the baseball situation as the one best team of the universe.

Mack's Costly Infield
Connie Mack's so-called $100,000 infield, big figures in those days, was made up of Home-Run Frank Baker at third, Jack Barry at short, the brilliant Eddie Collins at second and "Stuffy" McInnis at first. Some infield.

Other famous infields that have figured in winning many pennants are the present infield combinations of the New York Giants and the Yankees. Bancroft, start shortstop for many years, has been supplanted at New York by the youthful Travis Jackson.

One of the big thrills of the National league race was the late rush of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Only a poor start by Pittsburgh has made it possible for the Giants to be so comfortable most of the year.

In the recent spurt made by Pittsburgh, the work of the Pirate infield featured the club's play.

Rate Pirate Infield High
A majority of the experts are of the opinion that the Pittsburgh club has the best infield in the majors. It is certainly one of the best.

Pie Traynor is a great third baseman. Wright at shortstop, playing his first year in the majors, is a sensation. "Rabbit" Maranville, shifted from short to second, is having one of the best years of his career. "Lefty" Grifm at first is a marvel in the left field.

Washington, the sensation of the American league race, can thank its infield for the good part it has played in making the club a strong pennant contender.

Failure to make double plays cost many a ball game. Neither Pittsburgh nor Washington suffer much in this respect.

There is little to choose between the two combinations. Both infields compare favorably with the leading quarters of the past.

Robins Trail Giants By Mesely Half Game As N. Y. Stands Idle

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—With the Giants idle, the Brooklyn Robins trailed another half game by winning from the Phils and they are now only a half game behind the National League leaders.

The Senators and the Tigers won their games but the Yankees took a double header from the Red Sox and gained a half game on Washington. The champions are now one full game behind the leaders and four games ahead of the Tigers.

Longhorn Football Stars To Coach High Schools

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 12.—Six members of the University of Texas football team of 1923, which was considered by many the greatest eleven ever had, will coach Texas high school and normal teams this fall.

Lane "Buddy" Tynes, who made the touchdown on Kyle Field Thanksgiving Day that enabled the Longhorns to win the annual football classic, has signed to coach Del Rio high school. Tynes played with the Longhorns four years.

Ivan "Bobby" Robertson, the colorful Longhorn quarterback and captain of the undefeated basket ball team of 1924, has already started coaching at Austin high school. Robertson, who was graduated from the business administration school in June, turned down a number of attractive business propositions to enter the coaching profession.

Abe Curtis, another graduate of the school of business administration, will coach South Side high school in Fort Worth, one of the largest high schools in Texas. Curtis was a star on both football and basket ball teams. He played and last year.

Howard "Bully" Gilstrap of Granger, who recently joined the Benedictines, will guide the athletic destinies of Electra high school. He was a three-letter man at the University, starring in football, track and basket ball. He played with the Longhorns for three years.

Joe Ward, whose towering frame has been conspicuous as Longhorn football team for three years, will coach at Big Springs. He has already started training his boys, and the citizens of Big Springs are very enthusiastic over the former University star. Ward, too, is a three-letter athlete, making letters in football, basket ball, and baseball.

Oscar Eckhardt, believed by many to be the greatest football player the University ever had, will coach Canyon Normal this year. Eckhardt's play in last fall attracted national attention, and he was a mainstay on Coach Billy Dieck's baseball team. The loss of Eckhardt will be keenly felt this fall by Coach Stewart.

Ferdinand "Tub" Leissner, former University baseball, football and track player, and last year president of the students association has just signed to coach Polytechnic high school of Fort Worth. Leissner played ball with the Temple team of the Texas Association this summer. He has not been eligible for University teams since 1923, having completed his four years of intercollegiate competition.

Dave Penna, another former Longhorn football star, recently signed to coach athletics at Texarkana high school for this year. He was on the team of 1922.

NECESSITY OF FRUIT IN DIET

Juicy Fruits Supply Regulation For Body

Only within recent years has our knowledge of fruits and their use been so widened through experience and scientific research as to make possible anything like intelligent use of these most bountiful of Nature's foods. The last two decades have taught the valuable lesson that both from the standpoint of health and palatability, fruit is one of the indispensable in the menu. It is no longer necessary to urge its need as a really vital food for now we know that for normal stomach fruit is beneficial at any time, morning, noon or night, contrary to the outworn superstition that its digestibility wanes with the setting sun, and other old miners' tales such as the belief that pineapple would cause cholera. Nor is the pineapple the fruit of the pine tree as was the general notion for many years. Aside from its resemblance to the familiar pine cone which is the sole reason for its name, it has no family connection with the aromatic evergreen.

Juicy fruits are the best and most wholesome of the raw foods, and while they provide little in the way of starch, fat or protein, so large is their content of organic mineral salts, that we may now justly call them Nature's perfect sugar coated pills.

Among these juicy fruits which supply body regulation as well as palate satisfaction those of highest medicinal worth are the acid.

The orange is a fruit that can be obtained at all seasons of the year. And it is a fruit that can be served over and over, without becoming less appetizing. Its pleasing flavor and its mineral content make it a most valuable food. It is a food equally beneficial to infants as well as adults. In selecting fruit, remember that all should be heavy for their size as that denotes they are full of juice. Don't let an attractive skin persuade you to buy an apple if it is not of good weight, for it will be tasteless and unsatisfactory. So must oranges and grapefruit be chosen with good care, as a thick skin and little pulp are apt to be found with fruit light in weight. A pineapple should not only be heavy but the center leaves, if it is ripe, will pull out easily.

Sedentary occupations may be compared to a heater with the drafts closed or one in which the fire is simply being held. Therefore, those engaged in sedentary occupations do not require as much food fuel as those engaged in muscular effort, and fruits should have an important place in their diets.

Fruit, either fresh or stewed, should be included in every breakfast possible. Fresh fruit is not a luxury when one considers how greatly it adds to the health value of the meal. There is no excuse for not serving one of the fresh fruits, at least once a day while they are in season—and canned fruits at other times. One while discussing the diets of children with a physician, he said they should have all fruits, except the banana. I asked him then if he forbade the cooked banana as well as the raw one, and he said, "No, indeed, if it is cooked it is all right—in fact, an excellent food."

In Brazil the cooked banana is considered one of the best foods for invalids and young children.

Fruit Beverages

Fruit beverages are particularly valuable in the diet. They should be served more frequently than any of the others except milk. The time has passed when we think of them as only for formal or semi-formal occasions, or for the warmest days in summer. They offer the most desirable minerals, are rich in vitamins and because of the sugar contained are fairly high in fuel value. Most of the fruit juices, as we have said, have a wholesome laxative effect. In the summer they make refreshing drinks; through the winter the juices that have been bottled during the warmer months plus the fresh juices available from the citrus fruits are a source of vitamins and minerals, which are so apt to be lacking in the diet at that time of year; and in the spring they are most valuable stimulants to the jaded appetite. The tang of their acid flavor and their attractive color make them welcome additions to the table at any time.

Any combination of fruit juices will make a successful beverage if you use time, such as lemon-juice, sour or-

1 cup bread crumbs 3-4 teaspoon salt.

Chop spinach and add salt. Arrange in buttered baking dish alternate layers of spinach, cheese and crumbs, having the top layer of crumbs. Dot the surface with bits of butter and bake 15 minutes in oven. Serve four.

Poached Eggs
Strictly fresh eggs, toast, butter, salt and pepper, boiling water.

Fill the egg-poacher or spider with boiling water. Draw the poacher to one side of the stove where the water cannot possibly boil. Carefully bread the eggs into the sections, cover and let stand three minutes.

anges, apple cider or rhubarb in order to give the necessary acidity. In mixing beverages of fruit juices—or in fact any beverage where it is necessary to sweeten it, if you will use a sugar syrup you will find it gives a better, smoother texture and is more easily mixed throughout the whole drink. And, another thing when cutting the fruit, pressing or stirring the juices, it is best to use silver as other metals give a metallic flavor to the beverage—also glass, china or woodware are the most desirable utensils to use when preparing fruits for serving.

With your spatula carefully loosen the egg and remove to a nicely browned and buttered piece of toast, cut round. Season with salt and dash of paprika, garnish with a bit of parsley and you not only have an attractive dish but, if carefully done a wholesome one as well.

Two cups flour, 1-4 cup fat, 1-8 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Mix dry ingredients, cut in fat and liquid. Bake in hot oven 15 minutes.

Steamed Potatoes
Prepare potatoes as for boiling. Place in a steamer over boiling water. When partially cooked, sprinkle with salt and steam until tender when pierced with a fork. Remove from over the boiling water and let dry a few minutes on the back of the range or in a hot oven. This method is especially good to use when potatoes are very dry and mealy, as they do not fall apart when steamed.

Plain Omelet
Four eggs, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons warm water, a little grated nutmeg, 1 tablespoon butter.

Use a steel spider always for an omelet. Fry or fry in pans are both too thin and the omelet would heat too quick in the center. Put the butter into the spider and heat slowly. Break eggs into the bowl and only beat sufficient to thoroughly mix the whites and yolks, add the water and seasonings except parsley. Draw the pan to the hottest part of the stove and when very hot put the butter not browning, add the eggs all at once. Let set a moment and then with your spatula loosen the omelet at the edge, allowing the thin portion or uncooked part to run under and so continue until the omelet is set. Now sprinkle over the parsley finely chopped and with your spatula turn over one-third of the omelet, then fold once more as your turn it out. Serve at once. The steel spider, perfectly smooth, is the first requisite, then do not heat the eggs too much, 12 or 15 beats will usually do the work, and the butter while hot must not be brown and smoking. These directions carefully followed—not once but always—and you cannot fail. More failures are reported to me in omelets than in almost any other branch of cooking. Each and every detail must be carefully followed to insure success.

This omelet may be varied by chopping ham very fine—two tablespoons. When chopped and adding just before folding. Then you have a ham omelet.

Corn Fritters
One can corn, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, whites and yolks separate, saute in butter, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 eggs.

Prune Salad
Stew in small amount of water the large prunes. Cook until soft but not broken to pieces. Cool—remove stones and stuff with nuts. Serve 4 to 6 prunes on lettuce leaf.

Cream Salad Dressing
Two tablespoons butter, 1 cup cream, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 egg yolks, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 2 cups whipped cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Melt butter and stir in flour and cream. Beat egg yolks, add salt.

sugar and lemon juice and turn into thickened cream. Cool about 5 minutes or until the eggs thicken the mixture. Cool and just before serving add whipped cream. Be sure the dressing is cold before cream is added.

Nut Bread
One cup entire wheat flour, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon salt, 1-2 pound shelled pecans, 1-2 cake compressed yeast, 1 cup wheat flour, 1 cup milk.

Scald and cool milk. Set sponge of milk, butter, flour. Soak yeast cake in 1-2 cup warm water. When light add sugar, salt, nuts broken and entire wheat flour. Make dough as soft as can be easily moulded. Put in pan and let rise until light, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven.

Lima Bean Loaf
One cup dried lima beans, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1-2 tablespoons butter, 1-4 tablespoon powdered sage, 2 1-2 cups bread crumbs
(sofe), 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, 3 eggs.

Soak beans over night in cold water. Drain and cook in boiling water. Cook slowly until tender but not soft enough to lose shape. Drain and shake over fire to dry. Melt the butter and pour over bread crumbs. Add parsley, sage and salt. Beat eggs and mix with beans. Combine with the crumbs. Turn into buttered baking dish and bake 15 to 20 minutes.

Glazed Sweet Potatoes
Pare and trim into long oval shape. Cook in boiling salted water until tender. Mix 1-4 cup sugar, 1-4 cup butter, 1-2 cup hot water. Arrange potatoes in granite pan; moisten with sugar mixture. Put in oven, baste often. Cook until covered with rich brown glaze.

Dutch Apple Cake
Three cups flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup milk or water, 6 tablespoons baking powder, 1 egg.

Golden-Corn Tea Rolls
Mix together: One cup yellow corn meal, 4 teaspoons baking powder, work in 3 tablespoons lard with knife and fork, 3-4 to 1 cup milk or water, 1 cup white flour, teaspoon salt. Add liquid to make biscuit dough.

Roll out 1-2 inch thick. Lay on greased tins. Let stand for 15 minutes in cool place. Brush over with milk. Bake 20 minutes in hot oven.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
NO 7—MISTER COON GIVES AN ORDER

"Hello, Mister Coon," said Nick. "I'm ever so glad to see you."

Mister Ringtail Coon stepped into the shop of "Nancy, Nick & Company" followed by his two nephews, Corny Coon and Cobby Coon, who had come to spend the fall and winter with their uncle and go to the Meadow Grove school.

"How d' do, Nick," said Mister Ringtail. "I came to see if you had any suits that would fit these little rascals. And if you haven't any that will fit, can you make them some to fit? I want my nephews to look as nice as possible."

"Certainly," said Nick politely. Mister Snip Snap, the fairymen, came in then and said that they had some lovely things and that if Mister Coon would just step to the back of the store he would show them to him.

"You take the measure of Master Cobby and Master Corny, Nick," he said, "and be sure you don't make any mistakes. Don't get everything crooked like Nancy did when she made a dress for little Miss Bunny. By the way, boys, you don't happen to have any bites, do you?" asked Mister Snip Snap suddenly.

"This kind," grinned Corny, opening his mouth.

"No, I mean mosquito bites," said Mister Snip Snap. "The bunny girl couldn't stand still while she was getting measured, and that's why her dress was crooked."

"Oh, we'll stand still, all right," said Cobby Coon. "We'd just love to have nice new suits with white collars and big bow-ties 'n' everything, wouldn't we, Corny?"

"That's the talk," said Mister Coon in a pleased voice. "I thought you boys would come to your senses. Only an hour ago you said you didn't want new suits because the boys at school would make fun of you. But I guess you see now how nice it would be to have some new clothes."

Mister Coon went with Mister Snip Snap to pick out the kind of cloth he wanted to have the suits made out of, and Nick measured the little coon boys all over for their new suits.

"May we go and play now, Uncle Ring?" they asked when they were all through with everything and were on their way home.

"Yes, indeed, you may, boys," said their uncle. "You've been very good and now you may go wherever you like."

Off they went to the cornfield.

"But I can hold more'n you can," said Cobby.

"But you can't," said Corny. And they both began to stuff on the juicy grains.

That night they didn't want any supper.

"Are you sick, boys?" asked Mister Coon anxiously.

"No, we're dying," said Cobby. "We think we'll look better in our new suits if we're a little thinner. That's what you said when you got your last new suit."

"Why, bless your hearts. So I did," laughed Mister Coon. "But that's different. I'm old and I need to diet, but you're young. Come on and eat now like good boys."

But nary a bite did they touch.

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

Vasco Da Gama was glad to reach the Bay of St. Helena but he did not care to stay there long.

Onward round the cape! was the slogan.

The "cape" was none other than the Cape of Good Hope. It had been reached about ten years before by a captain named Diaz.

When the ships of Gama were fighting their way around the south of Africa, it was a hard struggle because of heavy storms. Again and again the wind blew them back, but at last they rounded the cape. Then the little vessels began to sail northward along the eastern coast of Africa. They were now traveling where men of Europe had never been before.

Now and then they stopped at a point on the coast to get water and food. Sometimes the natives feared them and either ran away or fired arrows from behind bushes. In other cases, it seemed as if the sailors were meeting old friends.

One spot they called the "Land of Good People." The inhabitants were negroes. They watched in a crowd as some of the Portuguese came from the ships in small boats. A sailor named Martin Alfonso led the landing party. He gave the chief of the negroes a cap, a jacket and a pair of red pantaloons.

Alfonso was invited to spend the night at a negro village. He went with the chief, who had donned his new clothes and who said to everyone he met:

"See what I've got!"

That night Alfonso was a center of attention. Negroes were all the while coming to look at him. In the morning, he went back to the ships.

The visit in the Land of Good People came in January, 1482. The next three months were spent coasting up the coast of Africa until the city of Malindi was reached. There Gama obtained a pilot "who knew the way to India."

On April 24, the Portuguese set sail for the east. In 26 days they anchored off the coast of Calicut, in Southern India.

The dream of Prince Henry had now been realized! India had been reached by sailing under Africa!

It took several days to arrange a meeting with the king of Calicut. After that was done, Vasco da Gama went ashore with 13 men. He was carried in a litter towards the king's palace, through dense crowds of Indians. Finally he was brought into the presence of the king.

SCORES OF JAPANESE SAILORS ARE DROWNED

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—Scores of Japanese sailors were drowned following a collision between two torpedo boats in the Yokosuka naval harbor at 7:40 a. m. today, according to first officials reports.

The torpedo boats were attached to the Warship Nagato and were returning to the ship with 200 sailors who had been spending the day at Yokosuka. They collided and both sank off Tobighan Point, practically all the sailors being drowned.

YOAKUM BUILDING IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

YOAKUM, Sept. 12.—The San Antonio & Arkansas Pass Railway freight depot was destroyed by fire this morning. Houses across the street were damaged by heat and water. Origin of the fire is not known. The depot was a large frame building.

TANKER REAPER IN DOCK HERE

Gulfoast Arrives Here Today at Gulf Company

Arriving from Antwerp this morning in ballast, the Texas Company tanker Reaper docked at the company's terminals to load out for a return trip to European ports, destined for Amsterdam with a cargo of refined oil.

The Gulf company's tanker, Gulfoast, arrived in port this morning from Jacksonville, and two other vessels sailed from the Gulf docks today. The Gulfoast with a cargo of case oil for Bayonne and the Gulfland for Beverly.

With the sailing of the Socoyo from Beaumont this morning the Beaumont wharves are deserted and no other vessels are scheduled to arrive in that port today, although the early part of next week will see renewed shipping activities.

RESTRAINT PLEA IS CONSIDERED

Petition Against 'Ma' Ferguson Up to Judge

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—Judge George Calhoun, 53rd district court of Travis county, who returned to Austin today from a fishing trip, is considering the petition filed by Chas. M. Dickson, of San Antonio, asking for a writ of temporary injunction to prevent the placing of the name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson on the ballot as the democratic candidate for governor. The petition was presented to Judge Calhoun immediately after his arrival at the courthouse and it was expected that he will issue an order during the day setting the case for hearing. Dickson is seeking a hearing at the earliest possible time.

BROKERS LAW UPHELD BY STATE'S ATTORNEY

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—In an opinion given the county attorney of Webb county, the attorney general ruled that the brokers law enacted by the 34th legislature is constitutional and valid except as to the provision requiring a bond of loan brokers, requiring a waiver of the loan broker's right to object to defective service and the provision permitting the payment of other judgments out of the bond.

WOMAN HITS MAN; GETS 'CUSSSED OUT'

HOUSTON, Sept. 12.—It's not right to be cussed out when you stop to inquire about a person's injuries after striking them with your auto.

At least that is what a woman told Houston police recently when she came to headquarters to report an accident. After striking the man she said, "He cussed me out something fierce."

The victim did not report the accident.

GRANTED CHARTER

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—The Imperial Sugar company, Sugarland, capital stock $5,000,000, was granted a charter today. Incorporators: I. H. Kempton, W. D. Kempton of Galveston and W. T. Eldridge, Jr., and J. D. Ulrich, Sugarland.

He Had the Remedy But Couldn't Find The Rattle Snakes

Gulfoast Arrives Here Today at Gulf Company

DALLAS, Sept. 12.—Hereafter when anyone is planning upon using the alibi "I'm afraid of snakes" for carrying the forbidden liquor, they had better wise themselves upon the location of the snake family in Texas, especially if they have to face District Attorney Shelby Cox here.

"I was startin' for East Texas and was takin' that along for rattlesnake bites," a negro liquor law violator appraised Cox when haled into court.

"But there are no rattlers in East Texas," Cox replied. "Well, well, did I say East Texas, I meant North Texas," the culprit countered.

Again Cox struck him a nasty blow with the statement to the effect that "Yes, there are no rattlers in North Texas." Draying back for a third attack, the negro capitulated with the query: "Say Cap'n, where am dem snakes anyhow?" That ended the argument.

140 STUDENTS ARE ENROLLED

But Registrations Continued At High School

One hundred and forty students were enrolled in the first day at the high school yesterday, registration continuing through Tuesday. Seniors and high juniors only enrolled yesterday, while today low juniors and high sophomores were being enrolled.

Classes start Wednesday. The schedule of high school enrollment remaining is as follows: Low sophomores, Monday morning; high freshmen, Monday afternoon; low freshmen, Tuesday morning; new students and others, Tuesday afternoon.

Attendance at the high school may not be quite as large this year as last year, when the total enrollment through the year was approximately 1200, according to L. B. Davis, principal.

STRAPHANGERS TABOOED HERE

Santone Discarded Street Car Straps in 1914

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 12.—A new fact has been brought to light in San Antonio—it is not a city of straphangers.

The familiar cartoon of a fat man in a street car hanging on to a strap for dear life and that of a lady with many bundles and no place to sit, has no place in the Alamo City.

Street cars were directed of straps in San Antonio 10 years ago, and passengers have hung on to the handles on the backs of the seats instead.

Officials explain the absence of straps in this wise: In the days of very narrow gauge tracks were built for the cars. Narrow tracks meant narrow aisles. Narrow aisles meant discomfort to passengers who had to grab for straps. So straps were abolished.

THEFT EPIDEMIC

Jones also attempted to escape, losing a bolt on the cell door before his action was discovered by a jailer, according to the Port Arthur officers.

Leaves, Theft Cease

Since Jones was missed from Port Arthur early this week, police said calls for officers to come to residences and business houses to investigate burglaries have practically ceased, while for the past three months from one to three cases of burglary have been reported to police headquarters each night.

The last burglaries reported to the police were Sunday night, when the homes of John R. Adams, Waco and Lake Shore drive, and S. B. Muir, 2003 Procter street; and the Thomas brothers fruit stand, Sixth and Austin, were broken into, police said.

Identified as Pen Escape

Investigation into Jones' past record made by Wyndelt in the Port Arthur police department files identified the negro as escaped from the state penitentiary October 19, 1919, after he was sent up from Harris county for six years, following his conviction on counts of burglary and forgery; the identification superintendent here said today.

"Both Detective Briendine and myself who were with the Houston police department remember the negro's case there which resulted in his conviction and sentence to Huntsville for six years back in 1919," Wyndelt said today.

SANGER BROTHERS TO GET NEW QUARTERS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 12.—Plans were in the process of formation here today for an eight-story building to take the place of a proposed six-story structure for Sanger Brothers.

Addition of the two extra stories will increase the estimated cost of the building from $300,000 to approximately $400,000 it was stated.

WHEELER SEES LIBERAL WAVE

Victory Forecast By New York Chairman

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 12.—Beginning the eastern stage of the independent candidacy of Senator LaFollette campaign, Senator Burton K. Wheeler rode into Pennsylvania today on the crest of what he believes is a new LaFollette wave.

Three facts are recited by Arthur Garfield Hayes, New York state chairman, as basis for elaborate claims of what the progressives will do:

1.—In a half dozen cities where primaries have been taken, LaFollette is either ahead of the democratic and republican candidate or is running a close second to Coolidge.

Sudden G. O. P. Activity

2.—The recent shaving of prices in the Wall Street stock market is attributed to sudden fear that LaFollette is gaining so much strength that he may be able to throw the election into the house.

3.—Sudden activity of republican leaders against LaFollette, recognizing him as their most formidable opponent in some districts.

Wheeler broke the schedule of his tour to come into Pennsylvania in answer to urgent requests. He confidently expects to run first or second in this state where there is a big railroad and mine labor vote.

Speaking before a state convention of railroad engineers, Wheeler challenged President Coolidge and John W. Davis to come forward and state what bills they favored and those they opposed on the railroad question.

MACHINE PLANT FOR TELEPHONES

Dallas Largest City Discarding Manual Service

DALLAS, Sept. 12.—Dallas will be the largest city in the world with a complete machine-telephone switching system after September 13, according to officials of the Dallas Telephone company here. Change of the Avondale exchange from manual to machine system will make the circuit complete.

The new full directories will show more than 51,000 entries, officials said. It was further stated for comparative purposes that only one city in England has more telephones than Dallas.

SHOCK OF KNOCKDOWN ENDED FAN'S LIFE

NUTLEY, N. J., Sept. 12.—When Harry Wills knocked down Luis Firpo in the second round of their fight last night, William H. Lawrence, listening on his radio here, dropped dead. Lawrence, his family said, was anxious that Firpo win. When word of the knockdown came he turned, smiled and fell over.

FRANKS SLAYERS GIVEN NUMBERS

Loeb, Leopold Placed Behind Silent Prison Walls

STATE PENITENTIARY, JOL. ILL., Sept. 12.—Nathan Loeb, Jr., and Richard "Red" Loeb, today were formally initiated into the colony of state prisoners. Brought by automobile from Chicago the young slayers of Robert Franks arrived at the prison shortly after dark last night and were placed in solitary confinement.

To Be Photographed
Today they will be photographed for the state's gallery, their fingerprints and height measurements taken, and their long, slick hair trimmed. Then they will be sent to bath and given regular prison suits to replace temporary ones issued when they arrived.

After that, if Warden John L. Whitman is satisfied with their attitude, they will be assigned to cells in the main cell blocks and put to work in one of the shops.

These formalities may be delayed until afternoon by "defense day" exercises in the prison. All of the prisoners will be present at these exercises.

Boys Undergo Change

Nathan and Richard seemed to undergo a change as they entered the prison, lost the nonchalant attitude that made them the wonder of courtroom spectators. They tried to muster a cheery smile of goodby to the newspaper men who "covered" the lengthy hearing. They appeared almost frightened, as though they were just coming to the realization of the meaning of Justice Caverly's sentence to life in prison.

A moment after they entered the grim walls, they were searched and supplied with suits of prison denim. Then they were led to solitary cells and shut off from the world.

Identities Lost

Sometimes today, Baer and Dickie will lose their identities and become numbers 9305 and 9306 respectively.

A tragedy, involving the principals, was narrowly averted during the fast ride from Chicago. Near Western Springs, about half way to Joliet, the driver of the car carrying Nathan and Richard, sent the machine careening off the road and onto the interurban tracks, to keep from smashing into another machine ahead.

WORLD FLIERS WILL JOURNEY OVER TEXAS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Two more days of comparative leisure, including participation in defense day exercises tomorrow and then the world fliers start for the Pacific coast. They take-off Sunday morning headed westward over a southern route, Dayton, Chicago, Omaha, St. Joseph, Muskogee, Dallas, Tucson, San Diego and up to Seattle.

Lieutenant Eric Nelson, who was forced down in Maryland by engine trouble Tuesday, flew his plane in at dusk last night and today it was equipped with a new motor.

PROTECTIVE LEAGUE FOR DALLAS FORMED

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—The Community Protective League of Dallas, having no capital stock, was granted a charter Thursday for the purpose of "promoting and maintaining civic righteousness amongst the citizens of communities in Texas and a more tranquil state of relationship between the races, and thereby better citizenship through a system of education; this will secure for each citizen the fullest enjoyment of life, liberty and happiness." Incorporators, H. S. Williams, W. W. Langham, H. C. Sandifer and D. C. Polard.

TUNNELL IS NAMED FOR SENATE CHIEF

DOVER, Del., Sept. 12.—The Democratic State Convention today nominated James M. Tunnell for United States Senator, Joseph Bancroft for Governor and William H. Boyce as Representative to Congress.

WEATHERFORD, Sept. 12.—Harshness of this city has been appointed as Chief of Police to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Chief Ross Robertson.

Golden Tresses For All

The girls are gilding their locks in Paris now. In the theaters, in the cabarets, at all sorts of parties, they are wearing golden and silver wigs. They just slip them on over their bobbed locks. Desfosse, the designer, originated the fad.

While H. R. H. Danced, Press, Raffles and Rabble Froze

All Credentials Needed For Admission to Walls of Jericho; Coppers On the Job

JERICHO, L. I., Sept. 12.—It was a chilly night for "Raffles."

Orchestral strains came faintly across the lawn from the brightly lighted home of A. K. Vanderbilt, where the Prince of Wales was being entertained.

Outside the walls of Jericho, the populace and the press blew on blue fingers and stamped to keep warm, wishing for a Joshua to blow down the walls and let them in.

Guests Halted
Gravel popped under balloon tires as limousines of arriving guests skidded to a stop at the gateway. It was like the old army days of "Halt, who goes there?"

Everybody had to have credentials and good ones, to get a start up the driveway toward the house. The jewel robbery at Joshua Cadden's caused the precautions. There were gray-clad state troopers, blue-coated constables, lynx-eyed secret service men and was-mustached Scotland Yard detectives. Across the lawn, now shadowed by the imported Yew trees, now revealed by searchlights playing from the house to the marble, flowered court, walked with that revealing flat-footed gait a host of private sleuths.

Many Sleuths Attend
Throughout the house, where 60 sat at dinner with his highness, all at one table at a simple 10-course repast—for such is the new democracy—other plainclothes men disguised as butlers, maids, guests and plain businessmen tiptoed about. Not a jewel was lost. Not a pea disappeared from a matronly bosom, nor a diamond from a brow fevered a bit at the presence of royalty.

The prince danced. His eye is getting well. He will be able to see the polo, if there ever is any.

Four hundred guests came into the dance after dinner. The affair lasted until a late hour.

The grounds around the house had been strewn with flowers and cooed for twosomes had been prepared. But it was too cold, even for blue blood. Some of the flowers, appropriately were snowballs.

"Raffles" didn't show up. Probably it was cold for his fingers.

RETAIL FOOD COST ON RISE

13 Leading Cities Reveal Higher Prices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Retail food costs are on the rise, according to the department of labor today.

Out of 18 selected cities 13 showed upward moving retail food prices during the month July 15-August 15.

Atlanta, Louisville, Norfolk, Va., and Providence, R. I., found food two per cent more expensive; Charleston, S. C., Dallas, Jacksonville, Portland, Maine, St. Louis and Scranton, Pa., one per cent; and Kansas City, Memphis and New York, somewhat less than one-half of one per cent.

Cities favored by decreasing food costs during the month, however, were Indianapolis and St. Paul, with drops of 2 per cent, and Buffalo, Detroit and New Haven, Conn., a little less than 1-2 of one per cent.

The upward turn of prices, however, appears to be only an incident in a general decline for prices dwindled in nearly all the cities in the year ended August 15.

NEW YORKER HEADS SPANISH WAR VETS

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Sept. 12.—Chauncey Herrick of Onenota, N. Y., today was elected national commander in chief of the United Spanish War veterans in final session of their 29th annual encampment.

Twenty ballots were taken before Herrick won out over a field of six other candidates.

PARALYSIS IS FATAL TO DENTON WOMAN

DENTON, Sept. 12.—Mrs. W. C. Sledge, native of Tennessee, and long-time resident of Denton, died at her home here, following three strokes of paralysis. Mrs. Sledge was born in Tennessee and later moved to Mississippi but had lived in Denton for forty-six years. Two children, R. A. Sledge, Denton dry goods merchant, and Miss Effie Sledge, survive.

Funeral services were conducted at the home by the Rev. W. C. McClung, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of which she had long been a member, and burial was in the Old Fellows Cemetery.

MARSHALL SHOPS TO REBUILD LOCOMOTIVE

MARSHALL, Sept. 12.—The Texas & Pacific Railway company has just turned out of its shops here an engine for the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad, numbered 205, that was overhauled and given a new firebox and made practically a new engine here.

DIXON TO CONSTRUCT NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

WEATHERFORD, Sept. 12.—Preparations are being made for the erection of a new school building for the Dixon School district. Plans and specifications have been made and work will begin on construction as soon as the contract is awarded.

TELEGRAPHERS WALK OUT IN CANADA

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 12.—Canadian press telegraphers from Quebec to Victoria, B. C., will walk out this afternoon as a result of a deadlock reached by representatives of the news gathering organization and the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America.

In accordance with an agreement between the union and employers, the men gave notice they wished revision of the present working agreement, the main changes involving an increase in wages. The demands were met on the part of the press associations with a proposal for a decrease in wages. The men met this challenge with a strike vote.

FOUR ARMED BANDITS ROB KANSAS CITY BANK

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 12.—Four armed bandits held customers and officials of the Riverview bank at bay here today, scooped up $3000 from the counter and escaped in an automobile.
